The soldier students received thorough instruction in the theory of automotive mechanics and fundamental shop practice in the schools' Wheeled Vehicle Department. They studied actual engines,

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH HAS NEW STUDENT PASTOR

James Brown, student at the San Anselmo Seminary, has been engaged as the new student-pastor to assist Rev. Philip Evald in conducting services in various township Presbyterian churches.

Mr. Brown, born in Ireland, has been making his home in the state of Washington. He will now live in the manse at Newark, with his wife and their two children.

NILES CHURCH TO BURN MORTGAGE

The highlight of the annual meeting of the Niles Congregational Church next Thursday, Oct. 12, will be the burning of the church mortgage, an event that wasn't scheduled to take place until another five years.

Due to the efforts of the church organizations, however, and to the generosity of members and friends, the church building debt is entirely cleared.

The Thursday night meeting, to be in the nature of a pot-luck supper party, will also see the election of new officers for the coming year. During the evening reports will be heard from the various societies of the church concerning their progress.

All members and friends of the church are invited to attend. The affair is slated to start at 6:45 p.m.

340 ENROLL AT OPENING OF EVENING SCHOOL

He is survived by his wife and daughter.

National Newspaper Week

The press of America is observing National Newspaper Week from October 1 to 8 and we, the editor and associate editor of The Township Register, would like to bring to the attention of our readers a few facts about running a country paper during war time. We think National Newspaper Week is a fitting time to do this.

Let us be frank. Our reasons for getting this newspaper to you are not entirely altruistic. Our main reason for getting out The Register week after week is that it provides a way of making a living. Not an easy way, but it is the way of our choice.

Money aside, there are other reasons why we get a certain satisfaction out of working night and day to get a home-town paper in the mails each week.

Foremost, perhaps, is the thrill we get out of the many letters we receive from soldiers and sailors in far-off parts of the world, telling us how much pleasure they find in reading the home-town news.

If we weary of spending hour after hour in simply making changes in their addresses (they are constantly moving) we remind ourselves of that letter from a soldier in the South Pacific which stated, "I'm so glad to have the home-town paper that I even read all the ads!"

Yes, if our paper gives the boys in the service a few moments of happiness, we feel repaid for the effort we have made to get the kind of news in the paper he would like to read.

Lots of one-man country papers have discontinued during the war. The work proved too hard, the hours too strenuous for one man.

This is what The National Publisher has to say about one-man papers:

"Many newspapers have suspended publication because of the help shortage and few persons blame the publishers for not carrying on. However, this only makes the star of the few who continue alone shine brighter. What seems an insurmountable obstacle to some appears as a challenge to others—and they go ahead. To them freedom of the press is an obligation to uphold as well as defend and by pitching in and working when the pattern calls for suspension for the duration they are doing considerably more than their share."

It is not our intention, however, to congratulate ourselves on getting out this newspaper regularly every week. Rather, it is a desire on our part to congratulate our readers on their forbearance and for their support.

Our readers have been kind. Their papers have not always arrived on time. Often, the news they have sent in did not appear in print, due to an error on our part. And—too often, we're afraid—their names have been misspelled, a common mistake in any newspaper office.

Tomorrow marks an anniversary of a sort for us. Just five months ago (May 7) we took over The Register. In that time we have learned that the people of Washington Township are the finest. They have gone out of their way to be co-operative. They have been generous in giving us news items about their boys in the armed forces, and about themselves and their families. We can't say that they have done all this for us, because they, too, realize how much the boys overseas depend on the paper, and how every little item a service man reads about the people he knows is like a drink of clear spring water to him.

Eventually, when this war is won and we can get help, we hope to repay our readers—in the only way we CAN repay them—by giving them the best local paper it is possible to publish. It is our belief that the local paper is a mirror of a community. If the paper is progressive, lively, entertaining, it is only because the people whose lives it reflects are also that way.

BUS DEPOTS HAVE NEW OWNERS

Both the Centerville and Niles Peerless bus depots were sold this past week, the Niles business going to Edward Sachau, Irvington rancher, and the Centerville business (the Glade Cafe) being sold to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Strupp, former owners of the Niles place, will continue to make their home in Centerville. Joe Oliveira, former owner of the Glade Cafe, hasn't announced any plans.

PICTURES TAKEN FOR W.U.H.S. ANNUAL

For the first time in no one knows how many years the sunshine on the day appointed for taking pictures for the Washington Union High School annual. A venerable tradition was this unexpectedly shattered.

Pictures of the various classes, organizations and teams were taken under the direction of Mrs. Mary Van Winkle, annual adviser. The Barboni Studio in Oakland is doing the photography.

NILES P.T.A. WILL HOLD RECEPTION NEXT TUESDAY

Principal E. Dixon Bristow will speak on "What Social Service Can We Provide in the Community?" at a meeting of the Niles P.T.A. next Tuesday, Oct. 10.

A large turnout is expected at this meeting in view of the membership drive which the unit is conducting and due to the fact that it is a special reception for the new members and teachers.

Mrs. A. W. Gorman, hospitality chairman, will be in charge of the reception. Refreshments will be served.

OAKLAND C. OF C. PERIODICAL BOOSTS TOWNSHIP

It will please Washington Township people to know that their township was the subject of six articles in "The Metropolitan," news letter of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce which has a wide circulation.

Most of the information was taken from late copies of The Township Register, which has given considerable space lately to articles about various industries in this locality.

"The Metropolitan" contained a resume of the work of the township's new Planning Committee. Featured also were some of the industries here—the California Nursery, the salt companies, Pacific States Steel, the James Graham Manufacturing Company, and the Kraftite Company.

Anyone wishing a copy of "The Metropolitan" may get one at The Register office.

COUNTY'S FIRST WOMAN DEPUTY STATIONED HERE

Alameda County's first woman deputy sheriff has come to Washington-Eden Townships to make her debut as the new recreational supervisor for girls in the two townships. She is Mrs. Minnie Ralph of Alameda.

A former juvenile probation officer—an office she has held for six years—Mrs. Ralph says she feels extremely honored in being the first woman deputy in the county's history.

Her plans for her work in this locality are still in the nebulous stage. Right now, her main purpose is to get acquainted and to feel more at home here. Later she will reveal plans she will have made for promoting activities for teen-age girls.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT AT WASHINGTON HIGH

Opening the 1944 schedule with a 12-0 victory over the Hayward Junior Varsity, the Washington Huskies are all set for an interesting season. The Hayward game showed the Huskies exhibiting very efficient defense for the first game of the year and a wonderful spirit to the last man.

Their offense showed some rough spots and Coach Hird has spent the past week working on changes.

The boys will have a chance to try their offense at the second game of the year on Friday, Oct. 6, when they meet Campbell High School, one of the strongest teams in the Santa Clara Valley.

The game will be played at W. U. H. S. at 2:45. On October 12, San Jose High School sophomores will travel here to meet the Washington Reserves.

On the recommendation of the military services, a special effort has been made to allow the boys to travel. Both the Army and Navy are advocating interscholastic sports as strong contributors to physical welfare and morale.

Forty-seven boys have turned out for football; 22 have made the varsity. Of those, eight are lettermen from last year. Among the outstanding players in the Hayward game were Capt. Wayne Calhoun, center, who plays outstanding offense and defense; Stanley Maffey, end, a bulwark in defense and a sure pass-receiver; Tony Goularte, slow to start in the first half but showing promise of developing the necessary drive for a real fullback.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD COMMUNION

Members of the Presbyterian churches of Alvarado, Centerville, Irvington and Newark gathered at the Centerville church Sunday evening to participate in a world-wide communion service.

Communion services were held October 1 all over the world, among the servicemen, among many peoples of many nations, to express belief that the Christian faith is universal and would create a greater understanding through a unity of Christian fellowship.

Rev. Philip Evald, assisted by Mrs. Philip Evald, conducted the services at Centerville.

PLANNING GROUP TO HEAR OAKLAND COMMERCE HEAD

Harold D. Weber, general manager of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and executive secretary of the Metropolitan Oakland Area Committee, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Washington Township Planning Committee, which will be held Wednesday, Oct. 11, in the cafeteria of Washington Union High School in Centerville at 8 o'clock.

Weber's subject will be "Co-operative and Constructive Planning for Our Future."

His visit will be another link in a chain of events which evidence strong interest of Oakland in the future of Washington Township.

Elmer H. Hammond, manager of the industrial department of the Oakland chamber, spoke to the Niles Rotary Club several weeks ago on the industrial future of the township.

And last month Hammond, Don Follett, post-war planning head of the chamber, and Howard S. Sipe, publicity director, met with representatives of the township planning committee.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce also has furnished the township planning committee with maps, blue-prints and aerial photographs of extremely high importance in studying township needs.

The effort of St. James Episcopal Church, Centerville, to secure a full-time vicar promises to become a realization, according to T. R. Sutton, treasurer of the church. Almost two-thirds of the $3400 goal has been realized in the first three days of the canvass, which is covering the entire township.

St. James is the only Episcopal Church between Hayward and San Jose. Plans are being made to enable it to make a greater contribution to the life of the communities it serves.

Whitfill, a resident of Irvington for 25 years, was born in Switzerland. He leaves his wife and sons, John, Frank, Walter and Ernest, and daughters, Mrs. William Bauhofer of Centerville, Mrs. Vogt of San Jose, and Mrs. Schnyder of Irvington.

Hayward's Bret Harte 4-H club has planned a girls' chorus, led by Mrs. Josephine Tanghe and a dramatization directed by Miss Alberta Peixoto. Other 4-H leaders assisting are Mrs. Rhea McIntyre, Miss Antoinette Birite and Miss Evelyn Garcia. Mrs. Chris Simonson is in charge of community singing for the entire group, and Mrs. P. E. Holman is in charge of the program.

light of the week was the visit of their son, Robert Jackson, 1/c petty officer, U.S.N., and his wife, Mrs. Robert Jackson of Everett, Wash.

M.T. Sgt. James S. Cull, a former Niles boy, recently VISITED his father over the week-end. Sgt. Cull, who has been at Cherry Point, N. C., for the past 18 months, is now at San Diego.

NILES RESIDENTS ASKED TO HELP RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

All parents and other interested persons in Niles who wish to see the continued success of the Protestant Weekday School of Religion are being asked to contribute any amount they feel they can toward this project.

Mrs. Mary Gerding, special teacher for religious instruction in township schools, reports that already there are over 100 students enrolled in the classes throughout the township, and the children are enthusiastic in their study of the Bible. The number of Catholic children, who have their own religious school, has not yet been determined.

In most of the towns, the money has been contributed by the churches. In Niles, however, the money for supplies and for the teacher's salary must come largely from private individuals. It isn't a large sum, not much more than $200 to pay for the initial expenses.

Those who have already lent their support financially are:

Rev. D. Q. Grabill, Mrs. R. E. Clifford, Mrs. L. R. Batman, Mrs. Fred Duffie, Mrs. Joe Shinn Sr., and Mrs. Catherine Parry.

Most parents feel that religious education is a necessary part of a child's upbringing, according to sponsors of the local project. Horace Mann, who established the American public schools, said: "Moral education is a primal necessity of social existence. The grand result in practical morals... can never be attained without religion, and no community will ever be religious without a religious education."

Those in Niles who would like to support this religious school movement may make out their checks to Protestant Weekday Schools Committee and mail them to The Township Register, Niles.

CARD PARTY TO BE GIVEN AT CORPUS CHRISTI

What About Your Children?

A membership drive is now being conducted by the Niles Parent-Teacher Association. Unfortunately, it has shown no signs as yet of being a very successful drive. It is lagging.

From this fact there is only one conclusion to be drawn: Parents, whether they will admit it or not, are not deeply concerned over the welfare of their children!

It is a strange paradox that, although a mother claims to put her children uppermost in her thoughts and consideration, she ignores the one organization that provides her the opportunity of really doing something worth while for her children.

The P.T.A. offers an opportunity to belong to an organization that is known and respected all over the nation for its work toward the betterment of children and youth. It offers an opportunity to become a better parent, growing in understanding not only of one's own children but of all children everywhere.

There seems to be a mistaken notion by some mothers that "the P.T.A. doesn't do anything."

This is entirely wrong. True, there is a certain amount of what seems to be meaningless discussion, but in relation to the total good accomplished, this is small indeed. And the P.T.A. is not narrow; it is ever open to improvement and suggestions. Its aim and purpose is to serve children. But to do this it must have the CO-OPERATION OF ALL MOTHERS.

The P.T.A. is not an organization with just aims and ideals, however. It gets things done in a way that may not be generally known.

As an example, there are the school cafeterias, which are, in most cases, run by the P.T.A. Without these cafeterias, many children would go without proper lunches or, in some cases, without any lunches at all. This is but one of the many projects which the P.T.A. sponsors.

In time of war so many old-time basic values are in danger of being forgotten that it takes everything that every one of us can do to prevent our overlooking them. The P.T.A. stands guard over just such values.

Children's needs won't wait. It doesn't take long to grow up. And growing up under unwholesome or undesirable conditions means tragedy to the child and loss to the nation. The P.T.A. helps to prevent both.

It is not enough to be just a paying member—to pay your dues and then relax in the thought that you have done your share. Each mother should be a WORKING MEMBER. The officers of the organization, hard-working as they are, can not do everything. They need your aid, your encouragement.

Your child will be proud to know that you attend meetings of an organization which is devoted exclusively to his welfare.—V. B.

TENNYSON FIREMEN TO GIVE BALL

A grand ball, the proceeds of which will go to buy fire fighting equipment, will be given by the Tennyson Volunteer Fire Department tomorrow night (Saturday) at the Burbank School auditorium in Hayward.

This is the first ball the Tennyson Fire Department has given, since it has been organized only four months. Since its organization, the losses in fire by Tennyson residents have been reduced. Tennyson had had to depend on the county for fire-fighting aid. Louis Madeiros is the new fire chief.

NEWARK SOLDIER WEDS WAC IN MISSISSIPPI

Sergeant Robert Lloyd Wales, former Newark boy, was recently married to Pvt. Margaret Louise Kipp, WAC.

The ceremony in a pretty candle-light setting was performed at the chapel at Key Field Army Air Base, Meridian, Miss.

The double-ring rites were said at 7:30 p.m. by Chaplain J. J. O'Connell.

The bride wore the traditional white and carried a prayer book with white orchid streamers.

Before the ceremony, Pvt. Kathleen Read sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "Because."

Attending the bride were Pvt. Janette Hoolfin of Minneapolis as maid of honor and Pvt. Pat de Hoit of Oregon as matron of honor.

The bride was given in marriage by Staff Sgt. L. Spotswood of Bishop, Calif. Best man was Sgt. Lloyd K. Gill of New Jersey.

Mrs. D. Kipp of Waterloo, Iowa, attended her daughter's wedding.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding reception was held in the service center at the base, attended by 150 guests.

Sgt. Wales, of the 931st Signal Battalion, is the son of Mrs. Alma Wales of Alameda and of the late Lloyd A. Wales. He is a grandson of George Wales of Centerville, and attended school in the Lincoln District, the same school that his grandfather attended when he was a boy.

Sgt. Wales made his home with his maternal grandfather, Robert Lauenstein of Alameda, and graduated from Alameda High School.

The November election will be the fortieth American presidential election.

ALL-AMERICAN TEAMWORK!

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Farmers, because they have their roots in the soil, and can't simply decamp, or move their business into another state when an economic blight falls on the area in which they live and work, have unusual reason to keep a sharp eye out for proposals which would endanger their means of livelihood.

Such a proposal is now pending in California—the misnamed $60 at 60 pension plan, which will appear on the November ballot as Proposition No. 11.

Even the fact that this pension scheme would call for pension payments double or treble the amount indicated by its name—and greater than most gainfully-employed people earn under normal conditions—is of secondary importance to the tax features of the visionary program, for they are so extreme as to threaten the very existence of a sound farming industry.

The 3 per cent gross income tax which Proposition 11 would inflict on the people of California, and on business in California, actually is a gross transactions tax on every turnover of every commodity—and would increase this state's tax payments by the enormous amount of more than ONE BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR, if business and industry and individual citizens didn't collapse under the burden.

For instance: The money that the farmer received for his products would be taxed 3 per cent on the gross; the middleman's receipts would be taxed 3 per cent (and in many cases there are several middlemen, each of whom would pay the 3 per cent), and the retailer's receipts would be taxed 3 per cent—each levy being pyramided on the preceding one. With many farm crops, the amount of the pyramided tax would far exceed the margin of profit, with the result that products would be selling for less than cost—which would spell ruin not only for the producers, but for the handlers of such commodities.

This extreme and unsound proposal is of great danger to the entire state, but because of the nature of the farmer's business—and his inability to escape the ruinous effects of such a tax program, if it were once enacted—Proposition 11 is a greater menace to agriculture than almost any other industry in California.

Thousands of jobbers and wholesalers, for example, could and undoubtedly would escape the punishing effects of the tax, if it became law, by going into interstate commerce and buying heavily outside the state. Under the United States Constitution, the states cannot tax interstate commerce—and Proposition 11 recognizes this fact by stating that the 3 per cent tax will apply to: "The gross income of every person, firm, association, copartnership or corporation, and every trust and every trustee . . . doing business in California, EXCEPT THAT PORTION OF GROSS INCOME DERIVED FROM BUSINESS CONDUCTED IN COMMERCE BETWEEN STATES, but only to the extent the State of California is prohibited from taxing such gross income by the constitution and laws of the United States."

With such products as sugar, flour, wheat and canned milk, the margin of profit often is so narrow that California jobbers and wholesalers would undoubtedly be forced to buy OUTSIDE THE STATE to avoid the 3 per cent gross tax. The same principle would apply to many other commodities—and California agriculture would be

Mrs. America Meets the War

"Before I kiss Hortense, I always buy a nickel's wortha peppermints . . ." Remember that song, Mrs. America? And remember the peppermints? It looks now as if our chances of getting peppermints and other hard candies are going to improve. And when they come back into the stores these candies will have ceiling prices from 33 to 35 cents a pound set by OPA—protecting the pocketbook while indulging the sweet tooth.

Have you "that tired feeling"? Look like the symptoms in the patent medicine ads? When you run UPstairs, do you feel run-DOWN? Then what YOU need, lady, is carbohydrates—great gobs of 'em! And one of the best sources of energy-producing carbohydrates is bread and other cereals. Ah-ah-ah! No more of that pushing the cracked wheat at junior while you munch the melba—help yourself to a bowl of cereal and energy at the same time.

Any motorcyclists meandering around your menage? Motorcycle riders who are looking for another steed are reminded by OPA that they should investigate thoroughly the ceiling price of their favorite means of locomotion before buying. There are ceiling prices on used motorcycles—even those released by the Army.

"An apple a day . . ." It's been a long time since British children could join their American cousins in that chant. But now, for the first time since 1941, the people of Britain this winter will taste fresh apples from the United States. Fresh apples will be shipped chiefly as a substitute for lend-lease allotments of dried apples which will be in short supply this season, says War Food Administration.

Looks like the knife-like trouser crease is here to stay—what with Mr. America taking pride in his appearance and the War Production Board aiding and abetting him by speeding up production of new electric irons. These should be available in your retail stores in limited quantities in a short time and ranging in price from $5.30 to $11.75. Soon again Miss America can have freshly pressed pleats.

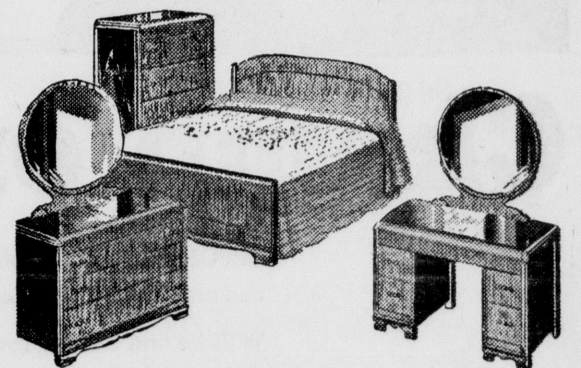

"Oh-h-h-h, the hambone am sweet—very, very fine . . ." And besides it's ration-free. Combining a shoulder hambone with that favorite of the South, black-eyed peas, makes a Saturday night dinner treat that will bring loud praises from your hungry menfolks and also conserve the red ration points for those extras now needed for your butter allotment.

Named "HAMBURGERS" intended that meat to be an integral part of said dish. If you're planning a last Indian Summer picnic, combine ham AND beef for hamburgers worthy of the name—and be sure to precook the ham before combining it with the raw beef.

Manufacturers of active dry yeast have now been instructed to set aside ALL of their current production for government needs, the War Food Administration tells us. That means those of us who've been making our light rolls with "maca" will have to turn to moist yeast in the future.

Wining and Dining

By ROBERT MAYOCK

Mr. Jean Juillard is not only an authentic gourmet, he is also a connoisseur of fine wines and a competent chef. I shall never forget the rack of lamb he prepared at the members' Wine and Food Society 3 years ago. Yes, 3 years passed by, but the memory of that meal will linger with me always. It was superb.

Mayock

But Mr. Juillard feels sad. He deplores the fact that we have no restaurant in San Francisco comparable to La Tour d'Argent, which helped make Paris famous. So he has suggested to members of the Wine and Food Society of San Francisco that we subsidize someone to start a really outstanding eating place in San Francisco.

Famous chefs are not lacking, as Marius La Fille is available, and Michele Weill, another famous gourmet, is willing to raise thousands of dollars to start the ball rolling.

So be of good cheer, you hungry ones. You may soon be able to eat Lucullan repasts in dignified and comfortable surroundings. You may soon be able to treat the family to a chateaubriand or a capon Rossini or a duckling Rouenais and end it all with a Bombe Pompadour. Oh, I tell you, there are great gastronomic days ahead when the war is over... for end it must. My date for Germany's end is before Michaelmas. So paste that date up over the lintel of your doorstep.

TRIPE DU CAEN

A lady writes in for the recipe of tripe a la mode du Caen. This is both easy and hard to do as the famous chef Escoffier discusses the subject at great length. But I see no reason for going into a discussion of the relative advantages of ox-feet as against calves' feet or even pigs' feet. In these days I usually find it necessary to use the latter. Neither do I insist on cider instead of wine, nor Calvados, that king of apple-jacks, in place of brandy, or even a dash of California sherry. In these rationed times we do the best we can.

So just take the nearest earthenware pot, cut two pounds of tripe into two-inch squares, add two pounds chopped onions, one pound large diced carrots, a little garlic (in place of leeks) and an herb bunch made of parsley, a sprig of thyme, and a bay leaf.

In the bottom of the pan place your calves' feet or pigs' feet, next the vegetables, then the tripe, the herb bunch, and some slices of beef fat. Cover with cider and water or with a pint of white wine and water. Add salt and a dash of pepper. Cook with a lid on for 5 hours in a slow oven. Then take out the herb bunch, the bones, and the suet. Add an ounce of apple-brandy or California brandy, strain off the extra grease, cover with a pastry lid, and bake until the pastry lid is browned.

If you have little individual casseroles, distribute the meat, the tripe, the vegetables and the gravy equally and make individual pastries for each service.

French Help British Handle Nazis

ON THE VILLAGE GREEN BEFORE THE CHURCH in the French village of St. Opportune, this picture taken during the rapid advance of the Allies across northern France, shows a typical instance of the co-operation given by French patriot forces. A British reconnaissance force has reached the village with its armored cars. The Tommies have dismounted and can be seen with local Maquis guarding German prisoners.

(pronounced Kan) you should have a green salad, toasted sour dough French bread and red table wine. With wine so hard to get, maybe I should only suggest a zinfandel, which is really a delightful wine when grown in any of our coast counties.

Since our boys are fighting right in the middle of gastronomic history in France, I may break down soon and tell how to cook a duckling Bouenais. Our boys have taken Caen in Normandy. That city lent its name to the tripe dish I have just described.

Mrs. John Rice from Westwood is visiting Mrs. Lee Maddox this week.

Dickie Crane is returning home tomorrow after a week in the hospital at Shoemaker.

Mrs. William M. Tarr returned September 25 from Camden, N. J. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hale of Canyon Heights. Mrs. Tarr expects to remain with her parents until the return of her husband, Lt. William Tarr, now serving in the South Pacific.

Remember last week I told you about Mottershaw's seven puppies? Well, if you want one you could buy one very reasonably after November 1.

Mrs. Lacy Greenhaw has received word from her friend and former boss, Mr. Harry Sabol of St. Louis, that on Labor Day he was honored by being chosen as "The good neighbor of the day" on "Breakfast at Sardi's" program. Mr. Sabol, who was born in Russia, is just a hard-working tailor, with three sons in service. He has sold more than $2,000,000 worth of bonds and stamps since Pearl Harbor, during his spare time. His son Allen, an aerial gunner, was shot down over Germany and is now a prisoner of war. Please buy a bond to help replace this bomber, which costs $250,000!

EIGHTH GRADE

By Marlene Duarte

The student body was called to order by Mr. Bristow to nominate their student body officers for 1944-45 as follows:

For president: Manuel Pine, Billy Ramsey, Ronald Berryman. For vice-president: LeRoy Nickell, Marlene Duarte, Martha Grimmer, Richard Ramirez. For secretary: Sarah Campbell, Norma Davis.

For treasurer: Thelma Costa, Mary R. Silva, Audrey Vargas. The student body will vote Friday.

Martha Grimmer went to visit her cousin, Ethel, from Centerville, who is attending Belmont High School.

The Business and Professional Women's Club gave a party last Thursday evening at Shoemaker Hospital for Ward D-2. Miss Bunker was chairman. Entertainment consisted of community singing; Marionettes by Miss Wilson accompanied by Mrs. Morris; an accordion solo by Albert Silva; and solos by Rose Vieux. Refreshments were served, and everyone had a good time.

SEVENTH GRADE

We have in the Seventh Grade three new girls Eva Joe Johnson came from Arkansas. She is 15 years old. There is another one and her name is Edith Hackett. She last attended Coney, Okla. The other one is Joan Spence, who last attended Roosevelt School in Minnesota.

Richard Wismer, Billy Jones and Mildred Rose are three new members of the Seventh Grade, and we expect Charlotte Rushing to be back soon.

Football holds the spotlight at Niles now. They are practicing on having a game soon and plan to win. And our presidency of the school student body is coming along very neatly, although the president is not yet chosen.

Sammy Garcia, one of our students of the Seventh Grade, received an arm injury while riding home on his bicycle, and is recovering from it. So that just goes to show how things can happen to boys and girls.

taking student operators out on nearly every flight he made, and proved valuable in training them in this line of work.

The accident is being investigated by a board of officers, but they haven't yet determined the cause, though it is supposed that it was due to icing of the engine.

The pilot of the plane, who had flown over 50 missions in the war area, was considered a cautious flyer. But for the fact that he had several student flyers aboard, who were anxious to get back to base to complete their training so they could graduate, he no doubt would have turned back. As it was, when the icy condition was first noticed, he was flying by instruments. That the flyers were unaware of any immediate danger was determined by the fact that none of them was wearing a parachute.

Pvt. Hodges, who had flown over most of the United States, was home only last September 11, visiting his parents in Centerville. Had he lived he would even now be making plans for a furlough that was scheduled for next week. Mrs. Irma Boland, teacher at the Decoto School, is one of his sisters, as is Mrs. Ivan Crosby of Wishram, Wash.

He was a popular member of the Class of '37 at Washington High, where he played football and had many friends. Chemistry was his hobby. He had an elaborate chemical laboratory at his home in Centerville.

He was inducted into the Army in October, 1942, took his initial training at Keeslar Field, Biloxi, Miss.; and took further training at the Army Technical School at Sioux Falls, S. D.

THOMAS JEFFERSON

Father of the Democratic Party,
if he were living today, would say:

Jefferson Refused a Third Term

Thomas Jefferson served as President of the United States for two terms, from 1801 to 1809. America was young in those days, and not too strong. And yet, despite his success, he refused a third term, even though times were critical. Not even the responsibilities entailed by the vast Louisiana Purchase or the imminent war with England could change his stand. For Jefferson, like Washington before him, knew there was

No Such Thing As An "Indispensable Man"

The Democratic Party

—has been usurped by men who are no more "Democrats" than are Norman Thomas and Earl Browder.

Let's Oust These Usurpers

The only way to restore our Democratic Party, to its rightful owners is to defeat those usurpers, those so-called "New Dealers." There is—

Only One Way to Do It

And that way is to elect Dewey and Bricker as President and Vice-President. This year, they are the only candidates who stand for American democracy... American liberties.

So Vote November 7th

Vote for Dewey and Bricker. Vote Republican whenever you find a "New Dealer" running on the Democratic ticket. It's the only way!

Thinking Things Over . . .

By VIVIAN BATMAN

There are times when I am at a loss for words. I do not know what to say. One of those times is when people approach me with "I read your column." I am embarrassed. I do not know whether to say, apologetically, "Oh, you don't have to do that," or should I say, "How nice."

The other day I met Ted Glassbrook, who, as everyone knows, heads the water works in these parts. He said to me, "I read your column."

I was flustered. I fished around in my mind for the proper reply. Fortunately, the editor was with me.

He came to my rescue by making the naive remark, "Well—we drink your water, too."

One of the things I have always dreamed about is having someone dedicate something to me. At last it has come true—and such a nice poem, too! This, to our knowledge, is its first publication.

Mrs. Myers writes, "To my new friend, Vivian Batman, this poem is respectfully dedicated, to be used in her column whenever and wherever she may find a few inches to spare. (Signed) Nell Farrington Myers."

AUTUMN IN CALIFORNIA

By Nell Farrington Myers

Dormant the silent hills stand . . . in the lowering sun,
The quiet valley, parched, awaits the rain;
Old Mother California—her harvest done—
Is sorting out her bins of yellow grain!

To every far-flung crossroad she has sent
Her golden fruit to feed the hungry throng.
Around the world to lean and homesick lads
On foreign soil, who for their country long.

Soon with the coming of the blessed rains
The springing blades of grass will green the land.
And gentle cattle on the sloping hills
Will browse knee-deep, each friendly little band.

Why must the peoples of a sad and weary world—
Drenched with the blood of sons who fight and die—
See their own homes (where loved ones come no more)
Reduced to rubble in the twinkling of an eye?

Here, while the rains soak up the fertile sod,
May Peace of the Canyon lay o'er the tortured Earth.
While springtime soon will come to greet the morn,
Give to this torn old world—rebirth.

There were 237,154 orange-bearing acres in California in 1943.

COUNTRY CLUB LUNCHEON GIVES VARIED PROGRAM

By Elizabeth Haskell Sloan

The annual Washington Township Country Club luncheon was unusual in several ways. First of all, there were not so many visiting club officials, perhaps due to gas rationing; secondly, the club members and their guests served themselves smorgasbord style; and thirdly, there was only one speech.

It was thoroughly enjoyable from first to last. Mrs. Hirsch, the president, made a gracious hostess; the decorations were in the usual good taste and artistry with a touch of Della Robbia in their style; and the short program was varied and interesting.

One of the visiting guests was Mrs. Albert Carter, wife of our Congressman, Albert E. Carter. She is no stranger to the club members, having spoken on various occasions on the theme of "Life in Washington."

The visiting president of the County Federation, Mrs. J. P. Massdam, made the only speech of the day, and that a short one dwelling on the dignity of the individual. She earnestly urged club women to make use of their individual rights, and especially urged that they go to the polls and vote.

The young dancer, Miss Betsy Andker, was graceful and charming. Her first interpretation, that of an Oriental street scene, was not only musical and rhythmic, but truly gorgeous in coloring. Her

PROGRESSIVE CLUB TO HAVE BARBECUE

The Southern Alameda County Progressive Club, with headquarters at George Bros. club house at Niles, will have its first annual barbecue at I.D.E.S. Hall at Mission San Jose on Saturday, Oct. 7, at 7 p.m. It is for members and their families only.

The club was organized only a short time ago. F. P. George, president, states that its purpose is betterment of the community. There are 50 members.

second number, that of a "Music Box," was excellently done, and her costume of yellow and green, perhaps we should say, gold and green, gave full play to her act. In this she represented an old-fashioned doll brought to life by the charm of the "Music Box," and the hoop skirt and pantelets of our great-grandmothers' day was never more charmingly presented. Her third number, "The Swan," was white and silver, very graceful and gliding.

The performance of Miss Andker was refreshing and took her audience out of the tenseness of everyday life which is so dominated today by war and politics, both of them distressing.

There was also a tragic note, and as we all stood in a silent moment of respect, most of us who knew young Bob Hodges felt deeply sympathetic with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hodges in the loss of their only son, who was recently killed in a plane crash.

There are 173 civil airports in California.

REBEKAH NOTES

Mrs. Ada O'Brien of Los Angeles, president of the Rebekah Assembly of California, will pay Niles Rebekah Lodge an official visit on Friday evening, Oct. 6, according to Iva Marble, noble grand of the local lodge. The business meeting will be preceded by a dinner to be held at the Niles Congregational Church under direction of the Martha Sanford Circle.

Arrangements for the dinner and for the refreshments to be held later on in the evening at Odd Fellows Hall, are under the direction of Sena Carr, chairman, and her committee. Decorations will be taken care of by Fern Mitte and Maude Silers. A short program will follow the business meeting. Visitors are expected from the different lodges in District 53, as well as from lodges in the bay area.

A district meeting will be held in Pleasanton on Monday evening, Oct. 9, preceded by a potluck dinner. Mrs. Alma Svanberg, district deputy president of District 53, is making arrangements for this meeting, and the meeting will be presided over by Mrs. Ada O'Brien, president of the Rebekah Assembly.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH WILL HAVE BAZAAR

St. Joseph's Church in Mission San Jose is holding a church bazaar at the I.D.E.S. hall in the Mission on November 25. Plans are being made for many different booths, selling a variety of things. It promises to be one of the big events of the season.

CENTERVILLE SCOUTS CONDUCT PAPER DRIVE

The Scout paper drive in Centerville received the "go" signal from Chairman Jack Rees Monday and into action went Scoutmaster Phil Sousa, Scout Committeemen Arthur Belshaw, Junior Assitants Gerald Morley, Harold Alameda, and Scouts Alden Christense, Joseph Lewis, Frank Edmondson, Melford Alameda, Irving Alameda, and Norval Peixotto.

In a truck furnished by the P. C. Hansen Lumber Co. and driven by Jack Briebe, the Scouts were able to gather five tons of paper within the city limits.

Your WAR CHEST Dollars Go Far

The Dollars you give to the War Chest work hard both overseas and at home

Wherever our boys are in service—in training camps, in foreign lands, at sea in battle or in dreary prison camps—they need helpful attention, good music or a chance to see a good show from home. Your War Chest dollars travel far to give them that.

At home, your War Chest is on a fighting front, too. In hospitals and clinics, War Chest dollars battle disease, improve community health. In community centers, nurseries, children's institutions these dollars help prevent child neglect, family crack-ups and juvenile delinquency. Your Chest maintains homes for the aged and supports youth organizations.

During this month of October you will be asked to give to the War Chest in your community. Give more than you now plan. There is a miracle job to be done—make it a miracle by you!
